Logan-co Minister Head of Temperance Committee

COCHRAN GETS CHAIRMANSHIP

State Legislature Adjourns Until Next Monday

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — The house of representatives adjourned today until next Monday after a brief session at which standing committee assignments were announced by Speaker Boehm. The senate adjourned Tuesday for the week.

J. H. T. Gordon of Hamiltonville, Logan county, was named chairman of the temperance committee of the house of representatives by speaker Boehm. The personnel of the committee is said to be "exceedingly" dry. Members associated with Mr. Gordon on the committee are:

Charles, of Madison, majority floor leader and chairman of the temperance committee of the last assembly; Carroll, also a minister and former; Graham, of Licking; Hines, of Tuscarawas; Emery, of DeWitt; Myers, of Darke; Brown, of Hamilton; Newland, of Wyandott; McVey, of Adams; Coe, of Cuyahoga; and Dill, of Franklin.

The house taxation committee, headed by representative Freeman of Hamilton, is the largest of all the house standing committees. It has a total membership of nineteen, and its personnel follows:

Walter of Ashland; Gordon of Hamilton; Kirk of Adams; Hines of Tuscarawas; King of Adams; Gooley of Cuyahoga; Ramsey of Adams; Kuhn of Montgomery; Bellamy of Hamilton; Hartzel of Adams; Marshall of Cuyahoga; Brown of Champaign; Dill of Franklin; Weyand of Cuyahoga; and Diller of Hamilton.

CHAIRMANSHIP ANNOUNCED
Other house committee chairmanships announced today by speaker Boehm are:

Agriculture, Silver of Preble; finance, Carpenter of Jefferson; land, Davis of Highland; benevolence and social institutions, Kay of Clark; tax, Taft of Hamilton; building and local associations, King of Clark; roads, Griswold of Geauga; common schools, King of Gallia; county affairs, Robinson of Hamilton; and food and fuel, Gilbert of Clark. Other committees are: Commerce, Hines of Tuscarawas; Donahy of Adams; insurance, Morris of Hamilton; judiciary, Robins of Ross; labor, Green of Mahoning; library, Hines of Tuscarawas; liquor, traffic and temperance, Gordon of Logan; military affairs, Hines of Logan; mines and mining, Burns of Washington; privileges and elections, Graham of Washington; rules, Graham of Harrison; soldiers and sailors, Graham of Harrison; home, Cochran of Adams; taxation, Freeman of Hamilton; and colonies, Weller of Adams. Reorganization, Weller of Adams; reference, Fouts of Adams; and public utilities, Taylor of Adams.

Thirteen bills introduced in the house last Tuesday will be placed in the hands of the newly created reference or "stiffing" committee which will pass upon them before they are referred to the standing committees. This committee is an innovation in the Ohio legislature. It is designed to prevent the printing of different bills upon the same subject and bills introduced as "sifters." It is estimated that it will save the state thousands of dollars in printing.

MEET IN CINCINNATI
Among the bills introduced was a measure to allow cities to offer bonds to allow cities to issue bonds for the purpose of operating a public utility. Similar measures were passed in 1919. It is a temporary measure and its application to cities is to be determined by the state legislature.

The first conference of the Ohio Association is to meet here today and Friday in connection with the annual meeting of the state association of the county commissioners. A bill introduced by Representative Kuhn of Dayton would abolish the office of county auditor and place the office in the hands of the county commissioners. The bill would also place the office of county auditor in the hands of the county commissioners.

CHARLESTON MAY LOSE WEST VIRGINIA CAPITOL
CHARLESTON, W. Va.—Charles, proud possessor of the West Virginia state capitol, since the late '80s, when the honor was won from Wheeling, in a bitter battle, may lose its distinction through the fire which destroyed the state house late Monday.

Monday night a state official standing on the veranda of the executive mansion, was heard to say as he watched the last flickering flames in the debris of the state house:

"This is the end of Charleston as the state capital."
A movement to move the capitol to Wheeling had been anticipated.

SPRING DRIVE IS BEING PLANNED

Russians Ready to Invade Rumania and Galicia

ARMY EAGER FOR CONQUEST

Major Nations Would be Dragged Into Struggle

PARIS.—(By United Press).—The Russian government is planning a spring drive into Rumania and Galicia, according to military experts here Wednesday.

Recent developments along the western frontier of Russia, convinced critics that the soviet army will drive into those territories when the weather permits.

A new European war with the various nations dragging and toppling one another into the fighting was seen as a possible consequence.

Recent reports from Russia have shown Nikolai Lenin in conflict with extremists who are anxious to push a campaign of conquest.

The Russian army, still mobilized, is chafing, eager for a continuation of its success against the General Wrangel in the Crimea, at the close of the 1920 campaign. Huge concentrations of troops have been bulked against the Bessarabian frontier, which recently was assigned to Rumania.

Others have been gathered further north. These movements with the promise of a spring campaign, have acted to soothe the impatient warriors who are said to be devoting the winter months to gathering munitions.

Critics here saw in the promise of a southern campaign, a desire on the part of the soviet leaders to avoid jeopardizing the northern port, through which most of their expected commerce with Great Britain and other nations will flow. It was believed, however, the fighting will involve Poland and that will necessitate a campaign in the north.

The fear of other nations toppling over the brink resulted from the realization that the Bolsheviks now have linked themselves with Turkey, through the crushing of Armenia. The Turks, armed and still in the field, protesting against the settlement of the Turkish boundary, would be easy to lead into the conflict, it was believed.

Rumania, eager to form a family alliance with Greece, thru two marriages between the royal houses, might count on the support of King Constantine's troops, busy in the new territory acquired in the war. With these two nations in the field, there would be every possibility of another Balkan explosion.

France openly is preparing to aid Poland in case of Bolshevik attack. Credits already have been voted for the purpose. France, then, at least, might be expected to pull itself into the war.

Rumania has mobilized the classes of 1913, 1914 and 1915 for service in Bessarabia. This mobilization was said not to have been brought about by the present Bolshevik scare, but critics pointed out that while the Russians are piling up troops along the border, there is little chance Rumania will demobilize these classes.

400,000 SOLDIERS READY
Rumania is credited with 400,000 trained troops ready for quick service. Rumanian authorities proudly pointed out that these are trained men, better able to withstand an attack than were the hastily-assembled Poles of last year. It was declared any attack which might reasonably be expected from soviet forces, could be met by these soldiers.

Meanwhile, General Wrangel is conferring with the French and President Pilsudski, of Poland will be here next week. The possibilities of a Bolshevik campaign will be discussed thoroughly while they are here.

EX-SERVICE MEN TRIED FOR DEATH OF LONDON TYPIST

MISS IRENE MUNRO, LEWES, SUSSEX (Special)

All England is following with intense interest the trial here of two ex-service men, Thomas Gray and Alfred Field, charged with the murder of a pretty eighteen-year-old London typist, Miss Irene Munro.

Altho the case is low and sordid, even for a murder, the public interest is exceptionally strong because of the youth and beauty of the victim, the imprudent self-assurance of the two prisoners, and the presence of the famous barrister, Sir Edward Marshall, who is defending one of the accused.

This is the third big murder case Sir Edward has defended the past year. In the two previous cases, when things at the beginning looked exceedingly bad for his clients, he won a verdict of "not guilty."

Miss Munro was murdered last August while on her holiday at Eastbourne, presumably on the 19th of the month. The next day a boy, kicking his way along the beach, stumbled over a human foot half buried in the sand, which led to the discovery of the body.

At the coroner's inquest several witnesses testified that they had seen the two accused men with Miss Munro not many hours before her death.

BOTH ARRESTED
Both stowaways were arrested on the arrival of the steamer from Ireland, but after their identity was established, MacSwiney was released and O'Callaghan permitted to proceed to a hotel where he is kept under surveillance of a guard furnished by local immigration authorities. Pending disposition of his request for admission, the lord mayor steadfastly refused to discuss his presence here, but MacSwiney volunteered the information that the Irish official came to the United States at the invitation of the committee of the Irish emigration fund.

MacSwiney explained that the British authorities had refused to permit O'Callaghan to visit America and that it was necessary to stow away on some steamer in order to make the trip.

HEADED FOR NEW YORK
As to himself, he said he could have come home on a passenger ship, but preferred to accompany the lord mayor. Both had hoped to reach New York before their presence was known, as friends there were expected to arrange details of their entry.

MacSwiney left New York to visit his brother who then was starving himself to death in Brixton prison. That trip also was made as stow-away and without any passport.

LORD MAYOR HELD BY AUTHORITIES

Irish Official Comes as Stowaway On Steamer

DECLARES HE WAS INVITED

Brother of Cork Mayor Also Reaches U. S.

NEWPORT NEWS.—Daniel O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, who arrived yesterday as a stowaway on the American steamer West Cannon in company with Peter MacSwiney, brother of the late Terence MacSwiney, declared today that the editors of the New York Nation, had invited him to testify before the commission of the committee of one hundred at Washington investigating the Irish situation.

The statement was in answer to that of Frederick C. Howe, chairman of the commission who said last night that the mayor had not been asked to appear before the commission. The invitation was extended by the New York people several months ago, Mayor O'Callaghan said.

Immigration Inspector L. R. Parker, in charge of this port, said today he was still awaiting word from Washington as to the admissibility of the Irish official.

INVESTIGATION ORDERED
WASHINGTON.—Investigation of the circumstances surrounding the entry into this country of Daniel J. O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, who arrived at Newport News yesterday as a stowaway and without passport, was ordered today by the state department. Officials of the department intimated that unless some extraordinary basis for examination was found it was probable that no distinction would be drawn between his case and that of any other stow-away.

Mr. MacSwiney, who had a passport issued to him by American consular officials in London, was free to leave at will, but announced his intention of remaining with the lord mayor until his status was cleared up.

BOTH ARRESTED
Both stowaways were arrested on the arrival of the steamer from Ireland, but after their identity was established, MacSwiney was released and O'Callaghan permitted to proceed to a hotel where he is kept under surveillance of a guard furnished by local immigration authorities. ## HUNGRY, ALMOST FROZEN, BALLOONISTS SAVED

Terrible Hardships Suffered by Hardy U. S. Airmen—Moose Dog Responsible for Them Being Alive Today—Safety for Them Friday

HEARST, Ontario.—Tales of terrible hardships endured by the utmost fortitude by the three stranded American naval balloonists from Rockaway, N. Y., in the frozen wilds of the Canadian North were related here today by Indian trappers arriving from the lower Hudson Bay district.

Their stories in the main corroborated reports from Cochran that the airman were on the verge of starvation and were forced to eat their two remaining carrier pigeons to keep alive. The men are now slowly wending their way back to civilization by dog team, with the thermometer registering 30 degrees below zero. Unless unusual storms are encountered they should reach Mattice no later than Friday. A Pullman coach will be placed at their disposal when they leave the trail there.

IN GOOD HEALTH
The men are in good health and spirits, the trappers say, with the exception of Lieutenant Stephen A. Farrell, the eldest of the trio, who suffered greatly from frost bite and shock.

According to the stories of the Indians, the landing of a mouse dog caught in a trap of shipwrecked original trading post of the Hudson Bay Company, was responsible for the safety of the airman last Sunday. When they heard the dog's cries, the balloonists decided to land. The great balloon struck in a clump of trees ten miles south of the post, and its occupants were almost stripped of their clothing in the perilous descent.

At the time of the landing, the mercury was only ten degrees below zero, the mildest weather for this season of the year in the history of the trading post. When the men extricated themselves from the wreckage, the first words were uttered by Lieutenant Walter Hinton, a veteran of the historic trans-Atlantic flight in the NC-4, who extended "fraternal thanks" to the Almighty for their existence.

MOCK DEATH 40 HOURS
The next thought of the airman was to express thanks to the merciful deity whose hands caused them to descend. For almost forty hours the Americans had mocked death in a raging storm high in the air and for the time being they were too exhausted to do anything but congratulate themselves upon their safe landing.

The airman had been drenched to the skin and feebly hung over their torn clothing. For four days and more at the point of despair when they were discovered by a frightened Indian trapper, George McLeod, the Indian mail carrier.

INDIAN SAVED MEN
They decided to chance it when they heard the howling dog and as they descended Farrell spied a mouse dog in the distance. It disappeared from view as they struck the tree-trunk and when they crawled from the wreckage, there was no sign of a landing. They at last made camp for the night and waited for daylight. With renewed spirits they set out in the morning in a southerly direction until they again saw the mouse-dog in the distance. Making for it they met the aged Indian, Tom Mariani. He took to his heels, pursued by Lieutenant Kloor, who caught the old man and induced him to lead them to a refuge. He took his wife to Moose Factory to notify the Hudson Bay Company men of the appearance of the three strangers.

Company employees then came to their aid and took charge of them. Warm, fed and dressed in dry clothing, the men told the thrilling story of their flight. After their departure from Rockaway, N. Y., they found the balloon drifted northward toward the Adirondacks until in the vicinity of Park Mountain, near Wells, N. Y., it was caught by a terrific storm. The officers felt no alarm, however, and decided not to send out any of the pigeons, preferring them for a more serious situation.

Friends Advance Mrs. Josiah Jones for Lima Job

GALE-SIMONTON ASPIRANTS

G. O. P. Committees May be Facing a Problem

Latest local political gossip has it that Republican women of Allen-co are organizing a movement to seek the appointment of members of their sex to positions as postmistresses in Lima, Delphos, Spencer, Pluffton and at other points where postoffices exist.

It is rumored the G. O. P. women of Lima put forward as a candidate for appointment to the position of postmistress, in the new administration, Postmaster James H. Sullivan, Mrs. Josiah Jones, wife of the city treasurer of Lima and the chairman of the women's committee in the November campaign.

Mrs. Jones was queried by a Lima News reporter concerning such a movement and stated that she knew nothing about it.

However, the report that the women will advance Mrs. Jones for the place has become pronounced in some quarters and whether the names of others will be brought out remains for the future to determine.

THE ONLY RECOMMENDED
The G. O. P. central and executive committees of Allen-co have thus far evidenced no intention of permitting women to share in politics further than voting and aiding in campaigns, but the gentler sex may make demands that cannot be denied.

So far, since the election, the committee has made no recommendations for appointive positions of anyone save men, and very likely will "view with alarm" any movement that tends to prevent party men from holding all the lemons. It is stated further that the women are going about the work of perfecting their plans in a quiet and effective manner, consequently there may be a few surprises.

Mrs. Jones is one of the most active workers in the party in the November election, among the women voters and reports of her proffer for the position of postmistress of Lima is not unexpected. The women feel that the party played in the success of the G. O. P. campaign is just as important as that on the part of the men and it is but natural that they should feel they are entitled to some tangible acknowledgment of the services they rendered, in the form of appointments.

Among the men being mentioned as successors to Postmaster Sullivan, when the new Republican administration gets going good and greases the way for Democrats now in office, are Colonel A. E. Gale, chairman of the Republican county central committee and H. E. Simonton, a member of the committee.

While it is true that there has been very little outside talk concerning just what man will be recommended by the committee, or whether it will be a woman instead, it remains a fact that Gale and Simonton are the most prominently mentioned in connection with the post-office place.

OVER AT DELPHOS
Over at Delphos, it is understood that both J. H. Jenkins and Ed Truesdale are taking each other as aspirants for the job. Alex Shook, Jr., now holds in charge of the Delphos postoffice. In due season, there will likely be a party dates agency for the Spencer, Pluffton, Elida, Lafayette and other offices in the county.

IF REPORTS ARE TRUE
If reports are true, the entry of women into the lists for official positions will be a new thing in the history of the county. It will be a new thing in the history of the county. It will be a new thing in the history of the county.

DELPHOS RANKING SUBURB
OVER WAPAK OR ST. MARYS
Further evidence is given of cities in the Lima district ranks Delphos as a suburb ranking in population with a population of 2,700 and outdistancing both Wapak and St. Marys, both of which are Anglians cities, less in population from that of 1910. Wapak shows under St. Marys, showing the old-time old days rivalry, and has 2,200 while St. Marys totals 2,500.

P. W. CRAWFORD IS MERCHANT HEAD

Chosen Successor to A. C. Ca-Jacob as President

ANNUAL MEETING IS HELD

Retiring Secretary Given Platinum Watch and Chain

Paul Crawford, prominent Lima merchant, was elected Tuesday evening by the members of the Lima Merchants' association at their annual dinner meeting at the P.K.'s home as president of the organization, succeeding A. C. Ca-Jacob. Homer Hughes is vice president and Fred Gooding secretary and treasurer.

Composing the new board of directors are: Ben Rosenbloom, representing furniture dealers; Ed. Benroth, the grocers; Charles Gordon, ready-made merchants; Fred Gooding, shoe merchants; R. B. Dunn and Steve Mitchell, department stores and P. W. Crawford, representative of large.

GIFT FOR MORTON
James E. Morton, retiring secretary, was presented with a platinum watch and chain, as a token of appreciation of the members for the excellent results he achieved as the executive officer of the organization. With the watch is engraved: "Presented to James E. Morton by the members of the Lima Retail Merchants' Association, January 4, 1921."

One of the best features of the event was a message brought to the merchants by Judge E. K. Johnson, Supreme Judge of the Philippine Islands. He described the islands as a "wonderland of possibility in development, where the weather is continually the same as the best days in Lima here, with crops growing the year 'round." These islands are the "richest source of hemp in the world. The Philippines produce 200,000 tons of sugar annually. Before American occupation the tonnage was very small. Judge Johnson also explained the tobacco and machinery industry and the coconut crop. And there are millions of acres of fertile soil still untouched. Judge Johnson warned against the United States permitting these islands to come under the control of Japan or some other country. His story of what the United States has done in developing the Philippines was amusing to his hearers.

BOOSTS ADVERTISING
A. J. Amos, sales promotion manager of the Garford Motor car company, spoke on "National prosperity and how advertising will affect it."

"Never has there been greater need for advertising in business than right now," Amos said. "But it must be the right sort of advertising. It will bring prosperity to the country. The right kind of advertising creates a desire for merchandise rather than a hope to increase business by creating a feeling of good will toward the merchant."

The employment of J. O. Newman as executive secretary, taking the place vacated by J. E. Morton, was announced.

BETTER THAN WHISKEY FOR COLDS AND FLU

New Elixir, Called Aspirinal, Medicated With Latest Scientific Remedies, Used and Endorsed by European and American Army Surgeons to Cut Short a Cold and Prevent Complications.

Every Druggist in U. S. instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter If Relief Does Not Come Within Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratory-tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as the times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and ice, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to slip into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell him to serve you two teaspoons with your tea or coffee of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at once and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle to your wife and babies, for Aspirinal is by far the safest and most reliable cold and cough remedy for infants and children.—Adv.

A HERO GOES ON BEFORE

MAJOR Benjamin Metheany, whose body was tenderly consigned to its last earthly resting place in Woodlawn cemetery Tuesday, was as much of a hero of the war as was the most intrepid and daring soldier whose life ebbed away in a welter of blood on the most terrible field of carnage in the war.

This man left wife and child to give his services in the department of the Red Cross, the ministering hand that reaches out to succor the wounded and ill, the distressed and helpless, whenever and wherever found. In the wake of the horrors of war which laid toll hands on the peoples and the wealth and materials of all countries engaged in it, the Red Cross found its way, relieving suffering, binding up the wounds of battle, feeding the hungry, clothing the naked and saving from premature graves thousands of little children.

It was in Belgrade, Serbia, where Major Metheany last labored in behalf of mankind. It was there that he was stricken with tropical malarial fever and laid his life on the altar as a sacrifice in devotion to the cause of humanity. In view of these facts, it was only meet and proper, right and just and a merited recognition of duty well done that Major Metheany's body should be laid away with military honors and that officials of the city, members of the American Legion and other ex-service men, members of the Red Cross, G. A. R., Boy Scouts and others should follow with silent tread the body to the tomb.

History records will continue to inscribe on the scrolls of memory and imperishable tablets the deeds of those whose lives were laid down in the great war in the cause of right, that a great burden might be lifted from humanity. Wrapped in the folds of the flag in the service of which he died, Major Metheany has passed out from among his fellows in the body, but in the spirit he will long live in the hearts and minds of his fellow countrymen.

NUT TREES FOR SHADE

FROM time to time, in various countries, movements gain headway in favor of the planting of fruit trees along highways and in waste places, instead of the popular forms of hardwood. These movements have a double object, affording wood and foodstuffs.

Going a bit further, since a great majority of the people of the world have come to a realization of the fact that nuts are destined to play a bigger and more prominent and essential part in the task of feeding the teeming millions, it has been recognized that the planting of nut bearing trees, such as the walnut and the hickorynut, in temperate zones, is not only good judgment, but also an aid to making assured the food supply of the future.

Here in America we spend large sums of money in the purchase of maple trees, growing them for the purpose of affording shade in city streets. Walnut and hickorynut trees would afford the same desirable shade and at the same time yield a yearly supply of nutritious nuts, much desired by the human family and needed, too.

The movement to substitute fruit and nut trees for maple and other hardwoods for purposes of shade is one that should be encouraged. When Johnny Appleseed roamed over Ohio, planting seeds of apples everywhere, he possessed a greater vision, altho he was looked upon as being slightly "cracked," than many others of his time accredited with the possession of normal faculties. The lesson Johnny (Appleseed) Chapman impressed upon the people of America has been sadly lost sight of.

Why not erect memorials to this eccentric character of history by planting apple trees everywhere, in his name, in Ohio?

A HEAP O' LIVING

BEFORE a civic club the other evening Col. Edward A. Deeds, the Dayton manufacturer, publicist and eminent engineer, made a peculiar address, peculiar in that between the lines could be read by the analytical his grasp of the true meaning of life, and its passing.

Dwelling upon Europe, he painted a different Europe than we of the states see thru the mirror of the illustrated paper. He painted a different England and a much beleaguered Germany, and if he touched upon Belgium as the skating o'er thin ice, he did give us the French side as our own boys brought it back.

And of the nations abroad he neither condemned nor upheld as to the war, but as to their individual lives, their hereditaries and their traditions he dwelt interestingly. Particularly did he point out to his hundred or more listeners the fact that the Englishmen as Europeans, as individuals stopped long enough to attempt to live, at least in week-ends if not in twelvemonths. The Englishman with his family plays persistently from Saturday noon until Monday morning; the French peasant-family plays just as persistently each sun-down when the day is over.

Thus does Col. Deeds very aptly tell us that we should play; not make the dollar our sole desire; the effort to leave our children comfortable or existing thought, until wearied and worn, we sink upon our cot to take final count of our fruitless and foolish lives ill spent.

TO CHANGE OUR BANKING

Gossip from Marion contains the interesting information that already the Republicans plan to have President-elect Harding father a Centralized Bank to succeed the present regional system of the Federal Reserve bank.

For almost an hundred years Americans have shied at the idea of one centralized bank. While admitting there is nothing better than the Bank of England, yet business is conducted far differently in this country than in Great Britain. In fact, far differently than in any of the continental countries of the old world where fortunes are accumulated by inheritance laws, whereas in contrast, every law on our books tends to dissipate fortunes.

It is almost an impossibility to pass a fortune along to the fourth generation in America. It can only be done thru real estate holdings at best and this very fact prevents the up-building of any given lineage as can be done by inheritances passing to the eldest son. Hence, our financial situation is vastly different than that of Europe and our unearned incomes meagre as compared with incomes in total.

There are some corrections to make in our Federal banking system, but no serious ones. It is the best piece of constructive legislation in a generation and the regional portion is especially desirable. Mr. Harding and those who would persuade him to abolish it and inflect the old bugaboo of a Centralized National Bank may find a fearful reaction in 1921, especially from the agricultural states.

SAME OFFICIAL, NEW NAME

HERBERT J. Kennard Johnson, employed as secretary of the Lima chamber of commerce, will be known as "manager" instead of secretary of the organization. Of course, the change in the title of the new official makes little difference, in a general sense, save that it really does sound more dignified to say "Manager Johnson" than "Secretary Johnson."

The title secretary is applied to places that are purely along the line of carrying out orders. In his capacity as the active executive of the local commercial body, Johnson has much to do that depends upon his own initiative and the board of directors did well in changing his official title. And while they were about it, the board decided that hereafter the complement of men who are directly in contact with the affairs of the chamber of commerce, representing the entire membership, shall be known as the board of directors, rather than the board of trustees.

Johnson starts off well. He has a head full of ideas for the good and welfare of Lima, but prefers first to ascertain the ideas of the membership of the organization. This is expected to be brought out in a series of small group meetings from day to day, until each and every member of the chamber is afforded an opportunity to express himself on what he would have done and how it ought to be done.

All of these ideas, so assembled, will be incorporated in the program of work, so far as they are feasible and acceptable. Johnson's idea along this line is carrying into effect on a big scale the staff assembly plan of industrial and business institutions. The plan has found favor with the officers of the chamber of commerce.

MISS LIMA: "Most of us are willing to reform when we are caught with the goods."

AS YOU LIKE IT

OLD SCISSORS SAYS:

The best way to keep a diary during 1921 is to lock it up in a safety deposit vault and never go near it.

Altho chosen as military attendant to Harry L. Davis on the occasion of the inauguration next Monday, Captain Jack Hower couldn't land an invitation for the Lima cavalry company to participate.

Those who haven't time to read the newspapers, or who, having time, don't, probably suffer the most from the so-called high cost of living.

Very likely by the time the G. O. P. boys decide among themselves just who did the most for Harry L. Davis in Allen co and is so recognized by the new governor, the coveted jobs will all have been passed out elsewhere.

Chicago woman left $8,000 in her will to care for a pet dog. The dog will eat regular meals at table and will have a Christmas tree lighted with candles. And still some people wonder at the present crime wave.

The old saying of "when thieves fall out," etc., applies to politics as well as to anything else.

The only thing that we ask of Mr. Harding is that he put some new flavoring in the stock on the postage stamps.

Some men are born with troubles, others acquire troubles and still others have political jobs thrust upon them.

THE WHYS IN CORYZA

A doctor after his own heart tells this story:

While paying a visit to a patient in N. Street, I was asked by the next door neighbor to stop as I passed. I found three children chasing about the house with some fever, general malaise and local running noses. I informed the mother that they all had coryza.

"Coryza! Is it dangerous?" she asked with the usual motherly anxiety.

"Well, no, not as a general rule," I pronounced with confidence.

"Is it contagious?" was the mother's next question.

"Very contagious, indeed. My wife first in the early spring. I have since then, unless the patient is immediately and completely isolated. Your children have caught it because somebody sneezed that little dust."

"Disinfect!" she repeated thoughtfully, "because why, I've never heard of that before, doctor."

"Is it some new pestilence?"

"Oh, no, indeed it is as old as the knowledge of mankind. I have names in different periods of human back in the Neozoic period it was called a catarrh. In the middle ages the physicians renamed it cold in the head."

"Cold in the head? Is that all?" she asked, "the doctor demanded."

"I saw that it was high time for me to go, so I said, 'Good-bye!'"

"We do not call it that any more, madam," I explained solemnly.

"Coryza is the term we use today. Five dollars, please."

"Five?"

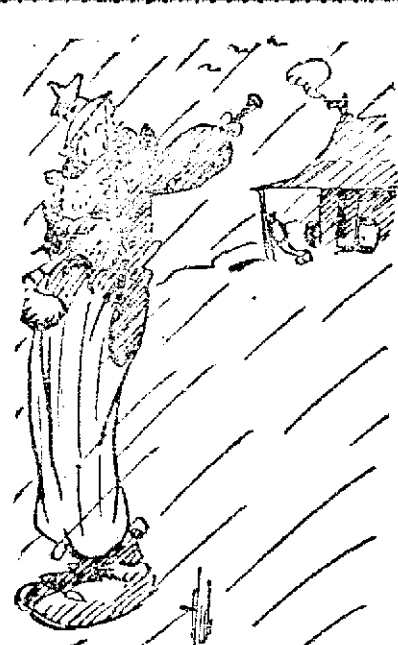

"The lady paid me with her eyes, because high. Something tells me I'll never be called to that name any more."

And yet the fee should have been nine dollars—with war tax additional!

What'daya say?

Perhaps the lady would have preferred diphtheria or measles or influenza or meningitis. Any of these may have all the earmarks

ABE MARTIN

Mrs. Lon Meadows, who has been missing for two days, was found in a bewildered condition in a turnstile grocery today. Foot pads are getting so thick here folks have 'em whistle all the way home.

WHAT THE STARS PREDICT

This is an uncertain day. It is predicted that in Congress there will be bitter division, resulting in sensational incidents.

The Immigration question will assume much importance during the coming month, and at least one European nation will attempt to keep its countrymen from leaving the homeland.

This rule is favorable to education, and it is predicted that new developments in educational lines will take place shortly.

There are indications that there will be earthquakes in part of the United States not previously affected by them.

Persons whose birthday this is, should avoid local quarrels, and travel during this year.

Children born today are likely to be very temperamental and not good natured. They will be very intelligent, and without too much of anything to relieve their ambitions.

YOUR NAME

By PHILIP FRANCIS NOWLAN
VARIATIONS — Schutte, Schutt, Schutte, Schute Schutes.
RACIAL ORIGIN—German.
SOURCE—Occupation or title.
This German family name of Schutte has no connection with that of Schultz, which latter is the equivalent of the English name of Bailey. It comes rather from the German equivalent for the English words "shoot" and "shooter," and is particularly interesting as being illustrative of the later development of family names in Germany than in England.

The names in this group are all derived from the occupations of professions of the old marksmen or riflemen of Germany, several hundred years ago. It is to be noted that the family names came into existence after the period in which the small firearms came into ordinary use. Names tracing to the use of firearms, other than the first crude cannon introduced while knighthood still was in flower, are conspicuous by their absence in English, tho there is a great number of such names as Archer, Bowyer, Stringer, Arsmith (arrowsmith).

The companies of marksmen, which for the most part were defensive militia maintained locally by the towns and cities of Germany, were known as the "schutzensgilde," and it may be taken for granted that any one bearing one of the variations of the name noted above had for an ancestor at one time a member of one of these militia organizations.

summoning the doctor for such a simple thing as a common so-called cold in the head—and if that is the case then the children are to be pitied. For an illness purporting to be so very simple coryza together with its manifold complications and sequelae is quite as serious as is bronchitis in child or adult. The trouble is that too many of us persist in dealing with the illness in the fine old fifteenth century war.

The children were playing intimately about the house when the doctor called. One, the first to contract the infection had peppered the other two, of course.

MRS. DESMOND IN LONELY CABIN

Divorcee Finds Solace High Up On Pike's Peak

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—A shattered romance that had its ending in the divorce courts has led Mrs. Juliana Charlotte Desmond, formerly of Toledo, Ohio, to seek solace in a desolate spot on Pike's Peak.

Alone, with her "Rancher" well bound and a cat, three miles from the nearest house, Mrs. Desmond lives in her cabin, continuing into the civilized surroundings only when her rations are delivered.

From a point near the summit of Pike's Peak her cabin can be seen, a large American flag waving in the breeze.

Mountain home, wild and the huge mountain peaks have no terror for the woman, who, a high-powered rifle, a few boxes of her personal belongings and a small stove, give her the ability to live alone. One time she grazes her combination dining room kitchen and living room.

Domestic trouble that brought a nervous breakdown, a divorce and her desire for the solitude of the mountains are said to be the cause for Mrs. Desmond's choosing one of the loneliest spots in the Rockies as a deserted mountain cabin perched in the rocks, a few miles from Pike's Peak—as her home.

According to stray bits of information gleaned concerning the occupant of the isolated cabin, Mrs. Desmond secured sufficient funds in an alimony settlement to enable her to live comfortably.

FAILS IN SEARCH BUT MADE RICH

Montana Prospector Finally Inherits Fortune From Brother

HELENA, Mont.—Frank Lamy, fifty-five, one of the picturesque prospectors of Montana, who has searched vainly for many years for gold and rich ores, has discovered a fortune in a big legacy awaiting him instead. All he has to do to collect between $30,000 and $40,000 is to go to Menominee, Mich., renew his acquaintance with old friends and relatives, prove his birthright and await the decree of the court. He may thank newspapers of this city for forging the connecting link between him and his legacy.

For years he was given up as lost by relatives. When a brother in Menominee, Mich., died he left Frank Lamy the greater share of the estate, relatives then started the search. They finally resorted to newspaper advertising. Within twelve hours after the first advertisement and news story in conjunction appeared in Helena new papers Lamy was found.

He is living in the little and far from the railroad town of Hughesville, in the newly created county of Judith basin, near Monarch and Nichant, two famous old silver camps.

C. G. Carter, of No. 409 North Rodney-st., Helena, read the story and the advertisement. He notified the paper that he knew Lamy well and had seen him only a few weeks ago and that Lamy has been living in Hughesville, now nearly a "ghost" town of the West. A few weeks ago Lamy finished earning his winter grubstake by working in the old "Block P." mine at Hughesville, the property of T. C. Power, Montana millionaire, resident of Helena, who in the early days ran a steamboat line under the "Block P." flag from St. Louis up the Missouri to Fort Benton.

Friends have notified Lamy of the fortune awaiting him. The estate couldn't be distributed until Lamy was found.

BETTER THAN WHISKEY FOR COLDS AND FLU

New Elixir, Called Aspirinal,
Medicated With Latest
Scientific Remedies, Used and Endorsed by European and American Army Surgeons to Cut Short a Cold and Prevent Complications.

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price
While You Wait at Counter
If Relief Does Not Come Within Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspirinal the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories, tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell him to serve you two teaspoons with four teaspoons of water in a glass.
With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all drugstores invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies, for Aspirinal is by far the safest and most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and children.—Adv.

THE MIDDLE TEMPLE MURDER

BY J. S. FLETCHER

"This young gentleman from London seems to be in possession of one of our tickets," continued Mr. Quarterpage. "It is wonderful! But I tell you what, young gentleman, if you will come to the morning breakfast with me and my racing books and papers and we will speedily discover who the original holder of that ticket was. My name, sir, is Quarterpage—Benjamin Quarterpage—and I reside at the ivy-covered house exactly opposite this inn and my breakfast hour is 9 o'clock sharp, and I shall bid you heartily welcome!"

Spargo made his best bow. "Sir," he said, "I am greatly obliged by your kind invitation, and I shall consider it an honor to wait upon you to the moment."

Accordingly, at five minutes to nine next morning, Spargo found himself in an old-fashioned parlor, looking out upon a delightful garden, with summer flowers, and being introduced by Mr. Quarterpage, senior, to Mr. Quarterpage Junior—a pleasant gentleman of sixty, always referred to by his father as something quite juvenile—and to Miss Quarterpage, a young-old lady of something a little older than her brother, and to a breakfast table magnificently spread with all the choice fare of the season. Mr. Quarterpage, senior, was as fresh and vigorous as a cherub; it was a revelation to Spargo to encounter so old a man who was still in possession of such life and spirits, and of such a vigorous and healthy appetite.

Naturally, the talk over the breakfast table ran on Spargo's possession of the old silver ticket, upon which subject it was evident Mr. Quarterpage was still exercising his intellect. And Spargo, who had judged it well to enlighten his host as to who he was, and had exhibited a letter with which the editor of the Watchman had furnished him, told how in the exercise of his journalistic duties he had discovered the ticket in the lining of an old box. But he made no mention of the Mercury matter, and Spargo was to see first whether Mr. Quarterpage's revelations would suit him.

"You have no idea, Mr. Spargo," said the old man, when, breakfast over, he and Spargo were closed together in a little library, in which were abundant evidence of the host's taste in sporting matters; "you have no idea of the value which was attached to the possession of one of these silver tickets. There is more, as you see, accurately framed and just as accurately fastened to the wall. These five silver tickets, my dear sir, were made when our old racing was in vogue, in the year 1831. They were made in the town by a local silversmith whose great-grandson is still carries on the business. The fifty were distributed among the fifty leading burgesses of the town to be kept in their families forever—nobody ever anticipated in those days that our racing would ever be discontinued. The tickets were great privileges, and all members of the family, male and female, free of the stables, pews, and paddocks. The holder himself and his children, if of age, the right to hunt on our grand race banquets. I think I may tell you, Mr. Spargo, that I have been present in the good old days. Consequently, as you see, to the holder of a silver ticket was to be somebody."

"Then, of course, the tickets who held the tickets looked upon them as a great honor, and they were held with as much care as if they were gold. I am sure that anybody who had one took the greatest care of it. I said last night over there at the Dragon, that I could repeat the names of all the families who held these tickets. I can do that here," the old gentleman drew out a drawer and produced from it a parchment-bound book which he handled with great reverence.

"There is a little volume of my own handwriting—memoranda to Market Milcaster races—in which is a list of the original holders, together with the names of the races who held the tickets when the races were given up. I make bold to say, Mr. Spargo, that by going thru the second list, I could trace every ticket—except the one you have in your purse."

"Everyone one?" said Spargo, in some surprise. "Every one! For as I told you," continued Mr. Quarterpage, "the families are either in the town (we're a conservative people here in Market Milcaster and we don't move far afield) or they're just outside the town, or they're not far away. I can't conceive how the ticket you have—and it's genuine, enough—could ever get out of possession of one of these families, and—"

"Perhaps," suggested Spargo, "it never has been out of possession. I told you it was found in the lining of a box—that box belonged to a dead man."

"A dead man?" exclaimed Mr. Quarterpage. "A dead man! Who could—ah! Perhaps—perhaps I have an idea, yes—an idea. I remember something now that I have never—"

The old gentleman unfastened the clasp over its pages until he came to one whereon was a list of names. He pointed this out to Spargo.

"There is the list of holders of the silver tickets—the time the race-meetings came to an end," he said. "If you were acquainted with this town you would know that those are the names of our best-known inhabitants—all, of course, burgesses. There's mine, you see—Quarterpage. There's Lumis, there's Kaye, there's Skene, there's Temple—the gentlemen you saw last night. All good old town names. They all are—on this list. I know every family mentioned. The holders of that time are many of them dead; but their successors have the tickets. Yes—and now that I think of it, there's only one man who held a ticket when this list was made about whom I don't know anything—at least, anything recent. The ticket, Mr. Spargo, which you've found must have been his. But I thought—I thought somebody else had it!"

"And this man, sir? Who was he?" asked Spargo, intuitively conscious that he was coming to news. "Is his name there?"

The old man ran the tip of his finger down the list of names. "There it is!" he said. "John Maitland."

Spargo bent over the fine writing. "Yes, John Maitland," he observed. "And who was John Maitland?"

Mr. Quarterpage shook his head. He turned to another of the many drawers in an ancient bureau, and began to search amongst a mass of old newspapers, carefully sorted into small bundles and tied up. "If you had lived in Market Milcaster one-and-twenty years ago, Mr. Spargo," he said, "you would have known who John Maitland was. For some time, sir, he was the best-known man in the place—aye, and in this corner of the world. But—"

NATIONAL SYSTEM OF BOXING CONTROL IS FAVORED

BIG LEAGUE HAS 20 SLUGGERS WHO REACH COVETED BATTING MARK DURING 1920 SEASON—TRIO OF REDS GO OVER MARK

TWENTY NATIONAL LEAGUERS NOW RANK IN .300 CLASS

NEW YORK.—Twenty players, headed by Rogers Hornsby, of the Cardinals, hit in the .300 class in the National League during the season of 1920, according to the official batting averages made public today.

Hornsby captured the batting championship of his circuit with an average of .370, a mark that has been beaten but four times since 1900 and excelled only nineteen times over a stretch of forty-five years during which batting championship records have been kept.

Plans to put the machinery under way include a luncheon to the delegates after which the state delegates will go into an executive meeting at the International Sporting club, at which a temporary chairman and secretary will be selected, and committees on constitution and by-laws formed.

Among the first things to be put before the body for an expression or for an official commitment, are the following suggestions, which seem to represent the common opinion of various state delegates:

Requirements that champions defend their titles within a stipulated time or forfeit their belts.

Agreement between states providing for acceptance of disbursement or disciplinary action taken by the national board of control as binding on state boards.

Some provision for revenue to accrue to the national board from state boards or individual clubs.

HERE ARE THE DELEGATES. The states which have named delegates are:

CONNECTICUT — G. C. Hawkins, Hartford.

KENTUCKY — Frank B. Russell, chairman boxing board.

LOUISIANA — R. T. Burke, secretary state boxing commission.

MARYLAND — Latrose Cogswell, chairman state athletic commission.

MASSACHUSETTS — Col. Alfred F. Foote.

MICHIGAN — Thomas W. Bigger, state boxing commissioner.

MINNESOTA — Robert J. Selberlich, state athletic commissioner.

MONTANA — W. A. Tremblay, Miles City.

NEW JERSEY — J. H. Smith, chairman state athletic commission.

NEW YORK — Joseph Johnson, chairman state boxing commission.

OHIO — L. H. Lightcap, president state boxing commission.

OKLAHOMA — Adjt. Gen. Charles F. Barrett.

PENNSYLVANIA — William H. Rocap, Philadelphia sporting writer.

SOUTH CAROLINA — J. O. Van Meter, University of South Carolina.

TENNESSEE — Daniel E. McGugin, Nashville.

WEST VIRGINIA — Adjt. Louis A. Carr, Clarksburg.

WISCONSIN — Walter H. Lingen, chairman state athletic commission.

The following states are expected to appoint delegates before Jan. 15: California, Colorado, Florida, Maine, Missouri, Oregon, Rhode Island, and Washington.

Babe Ruth Plans For Big Season

NEW YORK.—If Babe Ruth does not get at least fifty home runs in the 1921 season, he will be greatly disappointed, he said today.

The home slugging plans to hit at least fifty home runs, and to average .350, he said.

Then he will join the Yankees, he said, and will be in good shape, next summer and he is counting on doing some of the waiting for the team.

ROUSH LEADS BATTERS OF REDLEGS

CINCINNATI.—Eddie Roush of the Reds, led the hitters of the National League last year, and he is expected to do so again this year.

He placed in all but six games for his club, and he was a steady performer as well as a brilliant one.

Roush, the very clever right fielder of the Reds, was the only other player in the league to make more than 200 hits.

He drove out 291, which was 14 less than Hornsby, who was the league leader in hits.

Only three of the Reds batted over the coveted 200 mark. They were Roush who finished fourth among all the players of the league and led the Reds with 224. Charley Seay, the promising young utility outfielder, also made a regular this year.

And Jake Daubert, the veteran first baseman, who hit 200 in 47 games, in many of which he simply went to bat once or ran for another player.

He was consistent with the bat, however, and his work was reliable at all times.

Daubert kept up his hitting throughout the entire season with good effect, and he had no serious slump, and finished with a mark of 200.

WITH THE PUGS

LEICESTER, Ky.—That the league for each boxing bout held in the city of Lexington, Ky., the boxing of a department of 14 Tuesday by Carl E. Roush, manager of the Phoenix Athletic club, in supporting an action filed in the Circuit Court to have the ordinance declared null and void.

Among other things, Mr. Roush says that the last four bouts staged under the ordinance resulted in a loss of $2,000 for each bout, and the City Council enacted the present ordinance imposing a tax of $200.

BENTON HARBOR, Mich.—Florence, boxing promoter, announced last night that he had arranged a bout between Billy Miske, of St. Paul, and Eddie McGorry, of Oklahoma, to be held the night of January 12 at Grand Rapids.

TRENTON, N. J.—State Boxing Commission, today adopted rules for boxing examinations of all contestants by physicians before bouts and by a committee of the commission.

Five players engaged in every game which their club played, as follows: George Kelly, New York; James Johnston, Brooklyn; and Milton Stock, St. Louis, 155 games; Louis Duncan, Cincinnati, 154; and Norman Rockwell, Boston, 153 games.

SIX HITS IN ROW.—David Boneroff, of New York, hit six times in a row in his last game, which he won 10-0.

He did not do so since 1910, when he hit six times in a row in a game which he won 10-0.

Eleven players averaged from 10 to 15 runs a game, as follows: George Kelly, New York, 15 runs; James Johnston, Brooklyn, 14 runs; Milton Stock, St. Louis, 13 runs; Louis Duncan, Cincinnati, 12 runs; and Norman Rockwell, Boston, 11 runs.

NORVAL BAPTIE MAY GET CHANCE TO MEET RIVAL

The Reds, who tied with the champion Brooklyn for second place in the league, 12 points behind the Cardinals. The Giants were fourth but, as usual, led the league in runs scored. Metcalf's team is almost always the best scoring machine in the league, no matter where it finishes, on account of his clever handling of the hit-and-run play and his reliance on a play-a-round game.

The official standing of the clubs shows that it was the Giants who beat the Reds out for the pennant. Our boys won the season's series from every other club in the league, even the champion Brooklyn, but they capped only six games out of 22 played with the New Yorks, and this tough series dropped them into the third place.

REDS SPRING SCHEDULE.—Frank Dineen, the club under the weather with an attack of malarial rheumatism, is able to attend to his correspondence, and he announced the following spring training schedule for the Reds on the "Graph" trip. The team will leave for St. George on March 2, and will play several practice games there before meeting the Cleveland and Detroit Clubs of the American League. The completed schedule is as follows:

March 12-13, St. George at St. George.
March 14-15, Reds at Ft. Worth.
March 16-17, Cleveland at Detroit.
March 18-19, Detroit at Ft. Worth.
March 20-21, Oklahoma City.
March 22-23, Tulsa.
March 24-25, Lind, Okla.
April 1-2, Wichita, Kan.
April 3-4, Kansas City.
April 5-6, Joplin, Mo.

PURPLE WINS FIRST 'BIG TEN' GAME

CHICAGO.—Northwestern University opened its new indoor gymnasium in a thrilling game with the Purple in the closing minutes of a 12-10 score. Long baskets brought the crowd of 4,000 to their feet as the Purple won the victory.

That Wisconsin might have won the game was evident after an hour for the Purple, but the Purple missed countless easy shots after beautiful floor play worked the ball under the net.

Dr. McNeill, the returning Wisconsin coach, showed a team that had all the peculiarities of style that made him the wizard of the conference several years ago, except in his players' individual ability to sink shots.

BADGERS DOMINATE FLOOR.—The Badgers controlled the ball throughout the game, using a fast, short passing game, from a running triangular formation, and baffled Northwestern's defense by using a bonus pass from man to man, instead of the usual direct pass.

Northwestern led, 10 to 9, at the half, due to long, pretty shots by Patrice Saunders and Peterson. One basket was all either team could make in the second half. McKenzie led the score for Northwestern with eight minutes to play, after Cassar's first few minutes, but the Badgers' defense was too strong.

POOR ON FLOOR THROWS.—Both captains lost innumerable chances to win the game by missing free throws. Taylor of Wisconsin sinking only four of eight, and Saunders of the Purple failing in eleven of thirteen attempts. Cassar and Williams, the football stars, were Wisconsin's best floor workers.

Northwestern (13). B. P. T. Saunders, 11; McKenzie, 10; Taylor, 8; Williams, 7; Cassar, 6; Holmes, 5; Peterson, 4; Blank, 3; Roush, 2; Dineen, 1.

Wisconsin (12). B. P. T. Taylor, 11; McKenzie, 10; Saunders, 9; Williams, 8; Cassar, 7; Holmes, 6; Peterson, 5; Blank, 4; Roush, 3; Dineen, 2.

Free throw shooting: Saunders, 4-8; Taylor, 4-8; McKenzie, 3-4; Peterson, 2-3; Williams, 2-3; Cassar, 2-3; Holmes, 2-3; Roush, 1-2; Dineen, 1-2.

Free throw shooting: Saunders, 4-8; Taylor, 4-8; McKenzie, 3-4; Peterson, 2-3; Williams, 2-3; Cassar, 2-3; Holmes, 2-3; Roush, 1-2; Dineen, 1-2.

NEGRO SUES DEMPSEY

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah — Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight pugilist, was made defendant in the District court yesterday in an action filed by J. P. Burns, a negro, in which it is alleged that Dempsey has failed to pay Burns for special services performed between January 10 and March 15, 1920, amounting to $700.

It also is alleged that Burns loaned Dempsey $3,500 between those same dates, and a third allegation is that the plaintiff provided the pugilist with automobile and taxicab services during those dates to the value of $300, for which he says he had received no compensation.

Dempsey and his manager, Jack Kearns, were served with papers in the case when in Salt Lake recently.

"THE SCOFFER" PROMISES WELL IN QUALITY

Possesses Unusual Power to Command Undivided Attention of Devotees of Screen

Theatre Directory Discloses Exceptionally Fine Program of Plays in Local Houses

(BY ESTHER WAGNER)

SEVERAL quality movies are due here soon, and one of the greatest of the lot is "The Scoffer" which is scheduled for an early engagement in this city.

While the play in itself is unusual in its power to command undivided attention, artistic acting on the part of no less than ten brilliant players, is an outstanding feature of praise. Mary Thayne, who has deserted the bathing beauty field to win new laurels in dramatics, is the leading lady, and James Kirkwood and Noah Berry play opposite. An Allan Dwan production, the brilliant directorial ability of the famous producer is clearly discernible throughout the picture.

The story which is cleverly involved in "The Scoffer" concerns the misfortunes of one Dr. Standard Wayne, who is forced to serve a five year sentence, thru the plotting of his best friend, Dr. Richards. All of his life Dr. Wayne had been intensely religious, but at the close of the term of imprisonment, he emerges a coffer. Of course, the last scene shows that his faith in humanity has been restored and he finds happiness in the devotion of a true woman. Sounds mighty interesting, doesn't it? Watch for it!

THEATRE DIRECTORY

AT THE CYPHEUM:
Last time tonight, "Babies in the City" a cyclone of laughter; Thomas and the bewitching Frederick Sissy; Mober and Eldridge in a novel comedy that is splendid; Warrs and Ruxford, clever black face comedians; two other big-time acts. Complete change of program on Thursday.

AT THE SIGMA:

THIS WOMAN SAYS SHE COULD HARDLY WALK

"Every Joint in My Body Seemed to Ache with Rheumatism," Says Mrs. Neeman—After Taking Tanlac Says, "I Never Felt Better in My Life"

"I am so grateful for what Tanlac has done for me I can hardly express myself," said Mrs. Charles Neeman, 258 Field Ave., Toledo.

"About six months ago my hands and feet became swollen and it seemed to me every joint in my body ached. I could barely walk, in fact I suffered intensely. If I moved around at all, I wore rubber bandages all the time trying to keep down the swelling but still I suffered."

"My digestion was bad, too, and I was sure to be in misery for hours no matter how careful I was in what I ate. Life was almost a burden. I suffered so much and I just lived in dread of becoming totally helpless, as I was getting worse all the time. Just when I was about to give up and take to my bed, my husband persuaded me to give Tanlac a trial and that proved to be the turning point with my troubles. By the time I had taken the second bottle I noticed a big change and now I'm happy to say Tanlac did more for me than I ever dreamed any medicine could.

"It has entirely rid me of both indigestion and rheumatism and I never felt better or more active in my life than I do right now. There can be no mistake about it Tanlac is a wonderful medicine, and I from the bottom of my heart recommend it to everybody who suffers as I did. It was in my power I would put it in the hands of every sick person in Toledo and tell them to take it and get well. It's the grandest medicine in the world."

Tanlac is sold in Lima at Hunter's Drug Stores and the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.
